

Workshops

Workshop Location	Workshop One Friday 4:30 PM – 5:30 PM	Workshop Two Saturday 10:00 AM – 11:00 AM
Workshop Room #521	Signs of Awakening: How Sparks of Revival could Ignite the Next Great Missionary Movement Billy McMahan Africa Inland Mission In this workshop, we will wrestle with a pivotal question: Is revival truly breaking out, or are we simply witnessing a series of viral spiritual moments around the world? Together, we will explore how the Church can recognize, discern, and actively participate in what God is doing among the next generation. More than just observing these sparks of awakening, we will consider how to nurture them into deep discipleship, lasting transformation, and ultimately, the next great missionary movement that could impact the nations for Christ.	Mobilizing the other 99% of Your Students through the Tithe Your Career Movement Katy White GoCorps Missions is too important to be left just to 1% of the body of Christ. What about the other 99% of your students who don't feel called to be long-term missionaries? The Tithe Your Career movement - degree-based mid-term missions - challenges young adults to spend the first two years after graduation among the nations, connecting recent grads to global opportunities using their degree, passions, and skill sets. Come learn more about the Tithe Your Career movement!
Workshop Room #522	Pastors, Missions, & The Church: Why Church Leaders Are Essential To Missions Mobilization Matthew Ellison 1615 Missions mobilization within many local churches is often a second-tier priority for church leaders. Cross-cultural missions has been divorced from normal discipleship, and it is often seen as a program, a department, or a line item on a budget sheet. With the Barna Group, Sixteen:Fifteen and Pioneers explored the barriers, attitudes, and beliefs of church leaders pertaining to the missions mobilization. The findings are available in the new book by Matthew Ellison and Denny Spitters, The Sending Shepherd: Leading Churches to Disciple All Nations.	Bible Translation on Steroids – Translation in 2025 Gary Peterson Wycliff Can it really be done? Can we finish the task? We are experiencing something the World of mission has never seen before. We're not talking about a "Once in a Lifetime" event, but a "Once in Eternity" event. Come and be amazed at what God is doing NOW!
Workshop Room #523	The Misguided Quest for God: Horoscopes, Tarot, and Reiki is a pursuit of the One who has all knowledge, all power, and is pure love. Lily Hanan All Nations Deep down, every spiritual seeker longs for connection with the Divine. Many turn to horoscopes, tarot cards, and energy work in hopes of finding direction, identity, healing, and love. But these practices—while promising much—can only offer partial glimpses, counterfeit answers, and are often harmful. In this workshop, we'll uncover how these popular New Age practices are really signposts pointing to our ultimate need for God Himself, toward finishing the task of global evangelism.	Salty Storytelling--20 seconds to a spiritual conversation Christina Z All Nations Everyday we have scripted conversations. "Hi, how are you?" "What do you do?" "How was your weekend?" "Are you married?" "Do You have kids?" What if different answers to the same daily questions could open up spiritual conversations with strangers and friends alike – as they start asking YOU about Jesus? Join us to learn simple ways to transform the conversations you have every day!

Workshop Location	Workshop One Friday 4:30 PM – 5:30 PM	Workshop Two Saturday 10:00 AM – 11:00 AM
Workshop Room #621	20 Amazing Things Your Church Can Do Today to Join God on Mission Bret Johnson The Hastening Are we there yet? No, but we're getting closer. Is your church part of the most important thing happening in the world? God is on mission and your church should be highly engaged in it. Bret Johnson, a Pastor and Missions Agency President will share 20 things you can do immediately to engage your church community toward finishing the task of global evangelism.	Discover how to uncover and unleash the missionary potential already sitting in your pews Dave Childers The Upstream Collective This practical workshop will equip you with biblical frameworks and proven tools to identify, assess, and develop future missionaries within your church. Walk away with a clear, contextualized process to mobilize your people for global mission."
Workshop Room #622	"Lessons from a People Movement: the Role of Healing Prayer and the Ministry of Deliverance in Evangelism and Discipleship Tom Sappinhyon Duta Pembaharuan This workshop will present a biblical and practical approach to using healing prayer and the ministry of deliverance in evangelism and discipleship. Churches to Disciple All Nations.	Do you Know the Real Needs of Your Sent Ones Michelle & Brent Lapp Someday Refuge Recent research shows the reality of mental wellness on the field may be more challenging than you realize. Whether you support global workers through an organization or a local church, this session will illuminate how to care for families in deeper ways. We'll address questions about loss, trauma, and chronic stress from both personal testimony and the member care perspective, providing resources to support those dedicated to spreading the Gospel.
Workshop Room #623	When the Gospel Wears Moccasins Daniel & Coreen Espelen Indigenous Bible College Native America is home to hundreds of nations with unique history, language, and culture—yet remain unreached in the USA. Through engaging teaching, real-life testimonies, and honest conversations, we'll look at the beauty and resilience of Native cultures, historic / ongoing challenges, and practical ways to share the Gospel. Whether you're new to Native ministry or have experience, this workshop will help you to build meaningful relationships, avoid common pitfalls, and join God's mission among the First Nations of North America.	On Purpose – Building Discipleship Relationships with Internationals Bobby Cox Go Ten Discipleship doesn't happen by accident. In this seminar, you'll learn how to move from casual contact to intentional relationships with internationals—on purpose. We'll cover practical ways to overcome cultural barriers, build trust, listen for spiritual themes, and share your story naturally. Whether you're new to cross-cultural ministry or looking to grow in confidence, this session will equip you with simple tools to get started—and point you to GoTEN's full online training for deeper growth.
Workshop Room #624	Biblical Disciple Making Mobilizes Jeff Lewis Thirteen~FiftyTwo A western caricature of disciple making reinforces a provincial faith. Biblical disciple making mobilizes God's people both locally and to the ends of the earth.	The Task Remaining: How to Identify and Reach the People Groups of Highest Priority Alan McMahan Joshua Project This workshop focuses on the cutting-edge research being done to identify the highest priority Unreached and Frontier people groups in the world. In this workshop you will be introduced to actionable information and provided with a host of resources for mobilizing your church or agency to respond with maximum impact.

Workshops

Workshop Location	Workshop One Friday 4:30 PM – 5:30 PM	Workshop Two Saturday 10:00 AM – 11:00 AM
Workshop Room #625	Developing missional discipleship with the holistic health approach Sanghoon Yoo The Faithful City This workshop offers a comprehensive perspective on cultivating a holistic and missional lifestyle of discipleship. It integrates the bio-psycho-social-spiritual dimensions of health, challenging today's fragmented medical model and inspiring participants to embrace a "we are in this together" paradigm rather than an "us versus them" mindset. The workshop highlights building compassionate communities, explore safe connections, a sense of belonging, healing and restoration from both current neuroscience discoveries and biblical narratives.	Poverty: Its Cause And Cure Mike Bell Healing Nations Poverty is a stain on human existence and isn't inevitable based on location or a lack of natural resources. Many things are blamed for poverty, but there is really only one foundational cause, and one way starting point to eradicate it
Workshop Room #626	The most missional meal ever Dave Drum J17 Ministries Can you imagine a person throughout all history who was more missionally minded than Jesus would have been, the night before paying the ultimate price? Nobody has ever wanted the cross to transform lives more than Jesus did that Thursday evening! He reveals His strategy: as a command, a demonstration, a process, and a prayer, and all of it is found in John 13-17. We'll explore those chapters together practically, discovering what Jesus thought was of ultimate importance.	10,000 + fellowships of MBBs, HOW!!! Larry Legrand Impact A look under the hood as to how thousands of former Muslims are in 10,000+ house fellowships across Indonesia, and the role foreigners can serve in these miraculous movements.
Outdoors (weather permitting)	Amplify your church's missions impact Jeff Sloan Frontiers Do you value creative strategies that strengthen your church culture to send your people to the nations? Discover practical strategies that can multiply your sending.	Worldviews in Chaos: Creating Harmony with the Orchestra Test Joe Miller Center for Cultural Apologetics The world often sounds less like music and more like noise—clashing values, competing voices, and chaotic worldviews. How can Christians bring clarity and harmony to this cultural soundscape? In this interactive workshop, you'll learn how to use the Orchestra Test—a three-part framework of coherence, correspondence, and practicality—to discern truth, evaluate worldviews, and guide others toward the harmony found in Christ, whose truth rings clear.
STM Workshop Room #501	Preparing For Your Short-Term Mission Trip Kathy Mort MissionExcellence Training is more than preparing logistics or reading a handbook. Join others and learn how pre-field training that is well-designed and implemented can result in people who have servant hearts, are team players, and are culturally prepared for service.	Making Your Next Mission Trip Safer Tory Ruark and Bill Pope MissionExcellence and MissionSafe Is 2026 the right time to go on a mission trip? While no mission trip is safe, we can make them safer. In this workshop, you'll learn how to understand risk from a biblical standpoint, assess the risk of a mission trip, and how to be prepared for crisis that can happen despite the best of planning.